

The Engineering
Design
Graphics
Journal

Autumn 1998

Volume 62 • Number 3

EDGD Officers

Mary A. Sadowski Chair
Federick D. Meyers Vice Chair
Eric N. Wiebe Secretary-Treasurer

Copyright© 1991 The American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE). ASEE is not responsible for statements made or opinions expressed in this publication. Individuals, readers of this periodical, and non-profit libraries acting for them are freely permitted to make fair use of its contents, such as to photocopy an article for use in teaching or research.

The Engineering Design Graphics Journal is the official publication of the Engineering Design Graphics Division of ASEE. The scope of the Journal is devoted to the advancement of engineering design graphics, computer graphics, and subjects related to engineering design graphics in an effort to 1) encourage research, development, and refinement of theory and applications of engineering design graphics for understanding and practice, 2) encourage teachers of engineering design graphics to experiment with and test appropriate teaching techniques and topics to further improve the quality and modernization of instruction and courses, and 3) stimulate the preparation of articles and papers on topics of interest to the membership. Acceptance of submitted papers will depend upon the results of a review process and upon the judgement of the editors as to the importance of the papers to the membership. Papers must be written in a style appropriate for archival purposes.

ISSN 0046 - 2012

Engineering Design
EDGD
Graphics Division

From the Editor

Dear Members:

It's that time of year again, when we find ourselves making preparations for the Annual Mid-Year Conference. The conference chairs are preparing a program that will enlighten us, provide us with a change of scenery, and give us an opportunity to socialize and exchange ideas with our colleagues. Division members are busy writing their papers, preparing for their presentations (or at least thinking that it's time to start worrying about doing so), filing travel plans and looking forward to a few days away from campus! It should be a great time in Columbus.

Hopefully, the conference will help replenish our supply of papers for the Journal. You may have noticed that the last few issues have had only a few papers. We are experiencing a slow down in paper submissions. If you have a paper in process, finish it up and send it off. If you have an idea for a paper, start working on it, get those ideas on paper!

The newly created Editor's award will be bestowed after this issue. All the papers included in Volume 62 will be eligible for the outstanding paper award. See Volume 62-Issue 1 for a summary of the award. Best of luck to all the authors.

For the next few months, we will have a staff change for the Journal. Sue Miller, our Technical Editor, just had her second child and will be on leave until Fall. Congratulations to the Millers! In her absence, Pat Connolly, a member of the Journal review board, will take over her responsibilities for managing the review process. Sue will take his place on the review board while she's on leave.

See you in Columbus!

Judy Birchman

Cover illustration by Ethan Goetz