

Message from the Editor

Nancy E. Study, EDGJ Editor

Penn State Behrend

Beginning with Volume 83, we have switched format to a process of ongoing publication through the Journal year. As mentioned in Issue 3 of Volume 82, Messages from the Editor and Division Chair will approximately coincide with the Midyear and Annual Conferences, so will appear mid to late summer and early to mid winter depending on the scheduling. We hope you enjoy the new format and feel free to contact me or any of the Journal staff if you have questions or concerns.

As summer draws to a close and we prepare for another academic year, I find myself caught between the excitement of a new batch of freshmen coming in along with our returning students, and the constant push of deadlines to have everything “perfect” before day one of the semester. Not to mention making sure all the equipment in my lab is ready to go, the syllabus is updated to reflect current university policy, and that I don’t accidentally schedule office hours during lab or a faculty meeting. I’ve never done that myself of course, have just heard of people making such an error! I wish you all the best in the upcoming academic year.

Thank you for reading and please consider submitting your work to the Engineering Design Graphics Journal.
